OH138: MASTER SCENARIO EVENTS LIST (MSEL) WORKSHOP

Course Description: This course will allow participants to obtain the knowledge, skills, and abilities needed to develop a Master Scenario Events List (MSEL) for both a full scale and a functional exercise. Through lecture, plenary discussion and facilitated activities, students will learn about and utilize the process to develop major detailed events, player expected actions and inject messages/simulations. The participants will also learn what is needed to harmonize/sequence injects/simulation in a way that creates an exercise environment conducive to exercise play, control and evaluation.

Recommended Participants: Attendees for this course must have responsibilities in exercise design/planning and conduct. The course is not intended for exercise players or response personnel unless they are expected to become involved in exercise development. Organizations or communities should consider selecting core personnel who are responsible for exercise planning that can form the nucleus of an exercise design team when they return.
